Front-end web developer with a concentration in JavaScript and AngularJS and a recent graduate of the After-Hours Coding Bootcamp from Grand Circus. With previous experience as a property management professional and one of the first Lyft drivers in Metro Detroit I excelled with roles in customer service, sales, leasing, training, communicating with C-level executives and processing financials. Through all of my work, I have taken a solutions-focused approach to solving problems for others and seek to apply that same approach with clean code at an organization looking for a positive, adaptable and capable programmer.
